26 Stock brief

The downtrend from 82.15-46.60 was defined by a channel that gave way on the upside in early July. This breakout has since consolidated with support above the channel resistance line along with the averages.

The recent recovery has also developed a short-term channel that defines support around the 200-dema. With risk on close below the 200-dema, upside potential is developing to retest a resistance area around 70.00-71.50. Follow through close above 71.50 unfolds upside to retest 82.15.
